Thank you very much for submitting your formative Research presentation proposal on time.

There is a strong plan used to underline your intentions for the summative submission. Just ensure that the actual summative is very focused and don't engage in tangents – from your formative information it would seem that some of the context may be a little broad and so examine the aspects of the study that you feel are the most important and stick to those to gain true focus on the subject.

If your subject is similar to your Literature Review, you need to make sure that you engage in research/discussion that comes from a completely different angle than your Literature Review to avoid self-plagiarism. You have to 'build' upon the subject from the Literature review and not merely just re-interpret the subject.

I look forward to your summative submission, in the meantime please reflect on all of the above and the very best of luck for the summative itself.

With best wishes

Karen
